Dear Prospera Friends, Sponsors and Partners,

As many of you witnessed at our Second Summit for Latina Entrepreneurs, the turnout and the energy that flowed throughout Oakland City Hall surpassed all of our expectations! For those of you who were not able to join us, we hope that this report will give you a taste of the essence through these wonderful visuals. And of course, we look forward to seeing you next year at our 3rd Annual Summit for Latina Entrepreneurs.

Indeed the event was magical. We could not have done it without all of our sponsors, funders, community partners, supporters and volunteers. And least of all, we could not have done this without the Latina leaders in Crece, Prospera's Incubation program.

It is not every day that 92 Latina entrepreneurs join forces with 69 staff, volunteers and supporters from diverse organizations to discover what's possible when women have true ownership of our economies. For Prospera, a small and ambitious organization, the Summit is so much more than an event. At this current juncture in our development as an organization and in this critical political moment, the Summit is about creating a new kind of community. This is a community that fully recognizes and sees the immense contributions that Latina immigrant women make to this country. This is a community that dares to invest in, and take the lead from a new kind of social entrepreneur. Latina immigrant women!

As you can see from this report, on a very practical level, this event put Prospera and some of our key entrepreneurs on the map. The media presence leading up to the Summit was formidable. In fact, our small team is working around the clock to respond to the increased visibility - we had 62 women register for "Explora tu Cooperativa", our Cooperative business fundamentals course. The phones are ringing off the hook, we have invitations to panels, and much more. As we say here at Prospera, this is a good problem.

Please join us in celebrating this moment and appreciating everyone who made this possible. YOU!

With inspiration,

Maria Rogers Pascual
Prospera Executive Director
